ISSUP Newsletter: Issue 14

We're pleased to announce the launch of the ISSUP Job Board as part of our Forum. As an organisation, we support the professional development of those working within substance use prevention and treatment. On our Job Board you will find information about available positions in the field from around the globe. We welcome ISSUP members to share advertisements for current vacancies in this category. Head over to our Job Board now to search for open positions or to add your own!

In recent decades, the field of substance use prevention has emerged as a credible scientific discipline that has made significant advances. As a result, policy makers and practitioners have developed a more complete understanding of risk and protective factors associated with drug use onset and progression to dependence. These developments have informed a broader focus on positive youth development, building of life skills, and addressing issues that will help prevent involvement with drugs. In this edition, we feature a set of principles to promote high-quality and effective drug prevention initiatives in different areas.

To keep up-to-date with the latest news, resources and events in substance use prevention and treatment, follow us on Facebook and Twitter, and visit our website. If there's anything else you'd like to read about in our newsletter or see on our website, please feel free to email us at info@issup.net.
