

ISSUP Newsletter: Issue 9

Thanks to all of you who regularly post interesting articles on our Knowledge Share. We would like to take this opportunity to share your interesting insights and stories with our community of substance use prevention and treatment professionals. That's why this week we feature a range of articles and resources from our members.

Did you know that you could share your stories with us? Head over to the Knowledge Share to post an article or visit the ISSUP Forum to discuss hot topics with other members. This week's discussion revolves around the role of mass media in preventing drug abuse. A study has recently aimed to determine whether such channels are successful in reducing the intention to use, and the consumption of, illegal drugs. Visit our Forum and have your say!

Remember there are only a few days left to register to become a trainer for the Universal Prevention Curriculum for Substance Use - Implementers Series. Click here if you're looking for an opportunity to build your skills and expertise!

As always, visit our website for more of the latest information from the fields of drug prevention and treatment. If there's anything else you'd like to read about in our newsletter or see on our website, feel free to send us an email at info@issup.net.
