ISSUP Newsletter: Issue 35

This week's newsletter features a range of interesting articles from around the world, including the findings from a survey of addiction studies programmes in the United States, a short report on alcohol and other drug trends in South Africa, a publication that examines the costs and harms of substance use in Canada and an overview of key studies on the role of psychosocial therapies in treatment systems.

This edition also provides information on the UPC-Adapt Dissemination Conference in November, which will focus upon the project's results and products. UPC-Adapt is based on the Universal Prevention Curriculum \(UPC\) which provides training for those wishing to develop their professional knowledge and skills in addressing substance use prevention. In the development of UPC-Adapt, important chapters and topics from UPC were selected and adapted in order to be more relevant for the European context.

Visit our website for more of the latest information from the fields of substance use prevention, treatment and recovery. If there's anything else you'd like to read about in our newsletter or see on our website, feel free to send us an email at info@issup.net.
