

ISSUP Newsletter - Issue 96

View this email in your browserWelcome to the latest issue of the ISSUP newsletter

There is so much to explore this month. Before you read on, we want to say a huge thank you to all of our subscribers, members and friends for helping us grow ISSUP. It won't be long before we reach 18,000 members worldwide. Attendance at ISSUP online events has been fantastic and we would like to thank everyone who came to last week's Quality in Treatment seminar for your support and enthusiasm for the cause. We have more great events coming up.

Save the date!

On Monday 8th March 2021, Dr. Hendrée Jones will be joining ISSUP Lebanon for a webinar on the treatment and prevention of substance use disorders among females across the whole life span.

Dr. Jones is a Professor in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the School of Medicine, University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. She is also the Executive Director of UNC Horizons, a comprehensive drug treatment programme for pregnant and parenting women and their drug-exposed children.

The webinar will introduce ways that substance use disorders can be prevented among females at different stages of their lives, identifying unique clinical needs that girls, adolescents and women (of childbearing age and older) have for treatment.

Universal themes of compassionate whole person care, use of person-first language, ways to support recovery and empathy will be covered. The event marks the occasion of International Women's Day 2021 and we look forward to welcoming you. Register here

ITTC NRC Launch

On the 24th February 2021, the National Rehabilitation Centre Abu Dhabi (NRC) announced the launch of the first ITTC in the Middle East Region, which aims to benefit those suffering from substance abuse, in UAE and the region.

The NRC Abu Dhabi is a regional training hub for International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs (INL) and Colombo Plan training programmes. The implementation of ITTC ensures that the content of the training programmes is put in place not just in the UAE, but also in the wider region. Read the full story here.
