In this release we have information on next week's SPR International Networking Forum event on prevention and climate action. We also bring you some excellent opportunities and resources that will be of interest to ISSUP members. Also look out for our World No Tobacco Day webinar happening on 31st May 2021!

Prevention Science and Climate Action

The UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) represent a global consensus on transitioning to a sustainable world environment that will promote the health and well-being of people everywhere. Prevention researchers and specialists, including many ISSUP members, are well-positioned to support this global effort.

In recognition of this, the Society for Prevention Research \(SPR\) International Networking Forum presents 'Prevention Science and Climate Action: Charting a Course of Involvement' - a virtual event being held on May 26, 2021 at 3:00 – 4:00 pm, Eastern Time (EDT).

Participants will hear three TED-style talks focusing on policy, public health, theories of behaviour change, and systems science. Approaches that are widely used in prevention science will be presented as frameworks for engaging and collaborating on key SDGs and global efforts that address climate action and public health challenges. Registration is free and allows attendees to join three regional breakout sessions following the main Forum event.
