INEP Plus - Facilitating new learning for prevention

So, what is INEP?

INEP – an INTroduction to Evidence- based Prevention – was developed and is provided by Charles University in Prague. It was an output of a project called “UPC-Adapt” funded by the European Commission in 2018. Other prevention specialists were consulted for feedback and input and the 10 Session Programme content was the result. It has close links to the European Prevention Curriculum (EUPC) and is offered as one route towards further training including joining an EUPC course as the next step in developing a better understanding of prevention.

ISSUP + INEP = INEP Plus

Why did ISSUP get involved with INEP? The original plan for the INEP content was for it to be offered as a “do-it-yourself” course by accessing it on the website and following the instructions for completing the Course. This gave ISSUP a little concern content offered. ISSUP discussed this with Charles University who were happy for ISSUP to prepare and provide the “Plus” of an online INEP course. This involved developing a training programme for ISSUP trainers to allow its National Chapters to become Facilitators of INEP Plus in their countries. Continue reading...
